May 30, 2006

WHAT: Advance comment on the unemployment rate announcement provided by global staffing solutions provider, Kelly Services.

WHO: Carl Camden, president and chief executive officer, Kelly Services.

DETAILS: The following commentary is offered in advance of the May unemployment rate announcement due Friday from the U.S. Department of Labor:

"Despite high energy prices and increasing interest rates, consumer confidence is still high and economic expansion remains on track. The employment market is solid and there are no signs that the growth is weakening.

"Wage inflation also continues, but differences in employee skills sets are evident as increases are mainly confined to highly credentialed and experienced professionals. As the economy continues to expand, the professional services industries will provide much of the job growth.

"The pace of hiring should climb steadily heading into the summer months."

WHEN: Carl Camden is available Friday, June 2, for media interviews through the contact information listed below.
