

Kelly Services Selects Temporary Employees of the Year

July 12, 2006

Mobile, Ala. Resident Selected From More Than 480,000 U.S.-Based Employees

TROY, MI, Jul 12, 2006 -- The search for the temporary employees that exemplify the true character of global staffing provider, Kelly Services, Inc., has ended. Connie McClelland was selected as one of three 'Temporary Employees of the Year' as part of Kelly Services' 60th Anniversary celebration.

Born and raised in Mobile, Ala., McClelland began her career with the United States Air Force as a secretary at the Brookley Air Force Base in her hometown. Life with the Air Force -- and her husband, a U.S. Army Colonel -- led her on a journey from her home in Mobile to places like Munich, Germany and Kyoto, Japan.

Finally landing back in Mobile, and although officially retired, McClelland continued to pursue career opportunities, including a position with a law firm as a paralegal. McClelland joined Kelly Services in May 1998, to take a position with Kelly's U.S. Commercial staffing division as a marketing specialist. During her eight years with the company, she has completed more than 200 assignments and has received stellar performance reviews.

"No matter what she pursues, Connie can be counted on to excel because she embodies Kelly's values through her integrity, ethics, professionalism, and loyalty," said Elwin Coe, district manager in Mobile, Ala. "We would be lost without her."

McClelland's commitment to making a positive difference is not confined to her job at Kelly. It is also reflected in the numerous volunteer activities she participates in with several non-profit organizations throughout her community. She is a clerical volunteer with a health facility that offers healthcare for uninsured workers, and participates in a University of South Alabama Neonatal program that provides handmade blankets for premature babies.

"We were very impressed by Connie and her many accomplishments in both her professional career and community involvement," said Michael Morrow, senior vice president of corporate marketing, Kelly Services. "On behalf of the entire Kelly Services family, we'd like to congratulate Connie and thank her for representing the true character of our company."

One overall winner was selected from each of Kelly's three staffing divisions: U.S. Commercial, Professional, Technical and Staffing Alternatives (PTSA), and International. As 'Temporary Employee of the Year,' McClelland will receive a cash prize and be honored during an awards ceremony, taking place in October at Kelly's world headquarters in Troy, Mich.
